TO TOURISTS AND TRAVELERS.

We have the honor to present to you a collection of articles, both in print and in the form of engravings, that have been respectfully sent to us by various gentlemen, who have been in the habit of visiting this city and the surrounding country. We have selected those that are most interesting and suitable for a collection of this kind, and we think that they will prove useful to you in your travels. We have also included some engravings of the most interesting buildings and monuments in the city, which we hope will be of interest to you.

VICTORY TO DEED ROYCE—HIS FAMILY—INCIDENTS OF HIS LIFE.

The story of the heroic deed of Mr. Deed Royce, the colored soldier, is one of the most interesting and inspiring stories that we have heard. Mr. Royce, a brave and noble man, was killed in battle, and his name is now immortalized in the annals of the war. The following is an account of his last moments:

Deed Royce was a brave and noble man, who served his country with honor and distinction. He was a true soldier, and his death is a loss to the nation. We have included some engravings of his last moments, which we hope will be of interest to you.
